HISTORY & MISSION

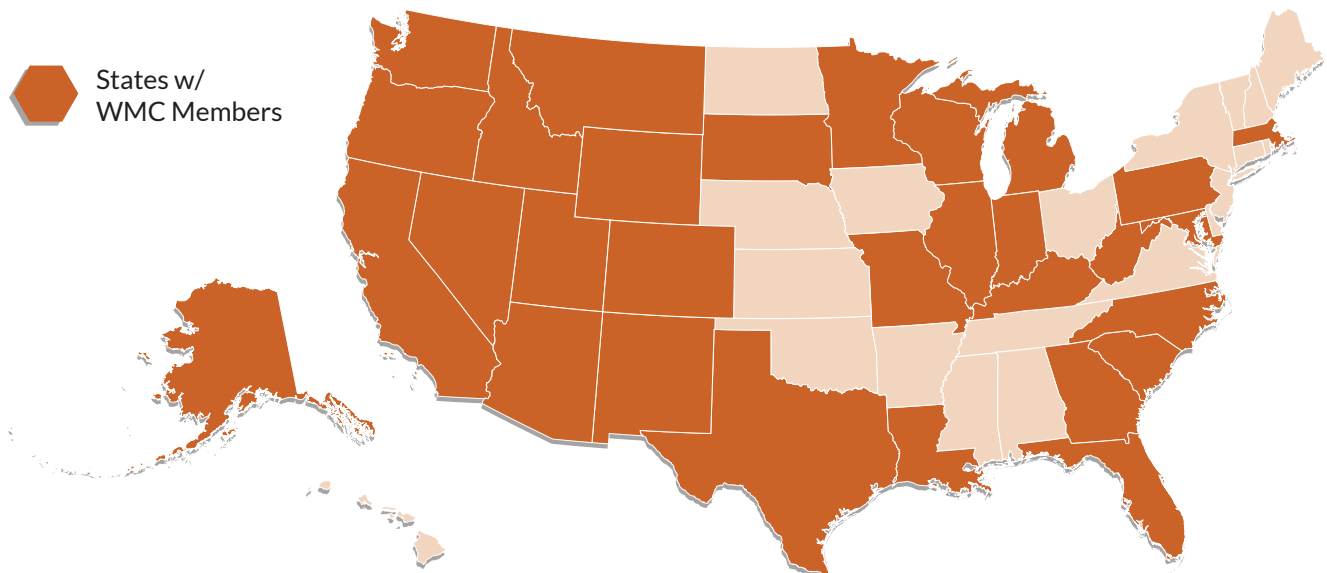

WMC's mission is to deliver the message to our legislators:

- A strong mining industry is vitally important to our nation, our communities, our families, and our livelihoods.
- Today's regulations and technology ensure responsible stewardship of our lands.

Women's Mining Coalition members deliver a fresh face and a strong voice to their Congressional delegations throughout the country on policy issues important to hard-rock & coal mining. WMC has been an active grassroots organization since 1993 and has established its credibility and expertise in numerous matters relating to mining issues. WMC can do this effectively because of the diversity, professionalism, and knowledge of our members working in our modern domestic mining industry.

The Women's Mining Coalition has been organizing outreach efforts in not only our home states, but in Washington, D.C. as well; WMC members make an annual trip to our nation's capital to meet with our nation's Legislators and their staff. WMC members meet with Senators, Representatives, and federal agencies, distributing important information about issues facing the mining industry. WMC's expertise in mining issues is recognized by Congressional staff, demonstrated by requests that come to WMC for information on issues well after our visits to D.C. WMC's recess district meetings in members' home states cement our relationships with our Congressional Representatives and address issues with a more local focus.

“I have been so honored to be part of this outstanding effort and organization, and to have met the many talented women that not only talk the talk, but walk the walk. I have learned much, witnessed many who have continuously gone above and beyond in their contributions, and I am proud to be in a place where I can refer to several of these fantastic women not only as fellow WMC members, but as long term friends.”

“A milestone in my career was when I joined WMC.”
