The Future of Wind Energy Relies on Minerals

380 additional tons of rare earth minerals will be needed annually to achieve 20% wind energy.

As demand increases for wind turbines, so will US reliance on other nations unless new mining developments are made in the US.

The US is currently 100% IMPORT RELIANT FOR RARE EARTH MINERALS